

Emily Kenny

Emily is a middle grade author specialising in fiction for 8-12 year olds. Her Alice Tonks series focuses on themes of friendship, self-belief and identity with plenty of animal antics and a sprinkling of magic along the way!

Emily has been working with children for over 15 years and is a qualified English teacher and Special Educational Needs Co-Ordinator. Emily's events are lively, informative and interactive and are aimed primarily at Key Stage 2 children.

Further details

Emily is available for school visits, bookshop events and literary festivals. Emily can provide talks on her writing process plus a Q&A; 'What is neurodiversity?' workshops or creative writing/ craft workshops...or a combination as required!

Fees for in-person events

£100 for a 40-minute class session (max 35 pupils)

£150 for a whole school assembly

£250 for a half day

Fees for virtual events

£75 for a half hour session

£150 for an hour

Book sales

Can be arranged through a local bookshop or direct via my publisher

Equipment

For in-person talks, I need the ability to project my powerpoint and either a whiteboard or flipchart. For virtual events, I need the ability to share screen.

Travel

I charge standard class rail fare or 45p per mile if I am driving.

If you have any further questions or would like to make a booking please email me on emilykennyauthor@gmail.com or have a look at my website at emilykenny.co.uk. You can also find me on twitter @Emilie_London.

